responsible for the reports of the Regatta so much objected to by "Waterman" never showed behind Slater or, if we mistake not, anybody else: so they could not pretend to be finished "Waterman," and we really do not quite see that they should. That, however, is of small importance. The rowing and non-rowing community are probably fairly satisfied with the amount of attention bestowed upon the Regatta of 1879, and will eat their Christmas dinner with equanimity notwithstanding the few inaccuracies that were printed in these columns. A point of greater moment is that referred to in a brief note from the Umpires, which appears elsewhere. "Waterman," by the way, in his letter, overlooked the fact that there were two gentlemen who acted in the capacity of Umpire and Starter; and this seems a somewhat strange oversight. In his communication, our indignant correspondent fairly contradicted two gentlemen, when he says that the rowing boats were not at any time impeded by the accompanying steam-launches. Captain Geary and Mr. Hynes ought to know best whether this was so or not; and the rowers and the community are bound to accept their opinion. The great majority of those present, we understand, do accept this opinion, and they do so all the more readily, not only because of the confidence felt in the gentlemen themselves, but because common sense and a clear vision corroborate the dictum thus laid down by the constituted authorities. It will be well if steps be taken in future to prevent a recurrence of the inconvenience complained of. We think the management of this year's Regatta, taking it altogether, reflects credit upon all concerned, and that "Waterman's" letter is not sufficient to shake the general satisfaction felt over the success of the V. R. C.

Shortly before the arrival of the Patroclus at Pagoda Anchorage, the ship's carpenter jumped overboard and was drowned; this is the third tragic death on board the vessel within a week, the double shooting (homicide of the doctor and suicide by the second mate) being still painfully fresh in the minds of our readers.

Among news to the 29th were to the effect that H. M. S. Frolic, Commander Rickman, R. N., was to leave for Takao on the Monday afternoon (weather permitting), and that the arrival was noted by the steamer Antenor, from Shanghai, of Mr. P. L. Warren, H. B. M.'s Acting Consul for Taiwan.

We read in the Shanghai papers that the Chinaman had had another mishap. In leaving the Tung-ka-doo Dock, after being repaired of the damage she sustained in the collision with the Kiangtse, she fouled the Benchutha and sustained such damage to her stern and gearing as, it was believed, would delay her departure for some days.

The annual report usually sent to us by Mr. John Paul, the collector, has assumed an abbreviated form this year. It is as follows:—

Hongkong, Dec. 25.

Dear Sir,—Grace be unto you. I only wanted to state, that during this year I paid a visit to Singapore, Penang, Saigon, Cholon and Canton. The distribution was from 15,000 to 16,000 Bibles, Portions of Old and New Testament, Tracts etc. My subscriptions amounted to $70 at Hongkong, and $8 at Singapore. Thanking the kind givers, I allow myself to wish to all a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

I remain, &c.

JOHN PAUL.

In an arbitration case in Shanghai the other day the witnesses were ordered out of Court and the reporters were asked to withhold their reports till the case was concluded. The Courier withheld its report but entered a protest as follows:—

It is very unusual for newspapers to be requested to hold over their reports of cases, even if witnesses are ordered out of Court, and we do not recollect an instance of its having been done at home. It is also a very inconvenient course to adopt so far as the journals are concerned, as they are under the necessity of laying an extraordinary mass of evidence before their readers, to the exclusion of almost all other matter. This case, however, being an arbitration, is on a rather different footing from others with respect to the publication of evidence, and perhaps there is no ground for complaint in this instance. The collision case of the Crusader and the S. C. Farham was, however, heard before the Court in the usual way, and yet the publication of the evidence had to be deferred until the case was nearly completed. It is to be hoped that this will not become the practice in Shanghai.

With regard to the new line of traffic between this port and Japan, the Hio-go News writes:—

The M. B. M. Steamship Co.'s steamer Tokasago-maru arrived from Hongkong on Thursday, several hours ahead of schedule time. The colonial service, so far, has been admirably performed by the Coy., who are showing determination to earn for the new line a reputation for despatch and reliability equal to that which they have gained for their Shanghai line. With such commanders as Captain Young, of the Tokasago, and Captain Walker, of the Nitaga—who, by the way, made a capital speech at the dinner given in Hongkong in honour of the inauguration of the line—they need have no fear that their reputation will suffer. While on this subject, we might mention a fact that has come to our notice, which is worth recording. On the last trip of the Nitaga-maru, articles of Japanese produce to the value of ninety thousand yen were shipped for Hongkong; and by other recent departures large quantities of native goods of a proportionate value, have been sent away. The Tokasago-maru brought 400 tons of cargo for Kobe, the rest of her available space being taken up with goods for Yokohama and Nagasaki. We have been informed that, in Osaka, an advance of about thirty per cent. has taken place in the price of mushrooms, dried fish, and other articles of food exported to China, since the establishment of the new line, owing to the increased demand for such articles. This is a highly satisfactory state of affairs, but it is to be hoped that prices need not go too high, or the trade just initiated may be stifled through over-fostering.

Mr. C. Piondes is preparing a volume on "The Folk-Lore of Old Japan," a Budget of Notes about Nippon," which Messrs. Griffith and Farran will publish at an early date. Mr. Piondes has spent over 12 years with the Japanese people, has mastered the colloquial language, and has lived the native life amongst the intelligent better class in that country.—Academy.

At a meeting of the District Grand Lodge of English Constitution Masons, held in Sydney the other night, the sum of £500 was unanimously voted towards the endowment of a scholarship in the Sydney University, open to the sons of English Constitution Masons only.

A curious intimation appeared the other day in a New Zealand paper:—

BIRTHS.

STEVENS.—September 26, Mrs. G. T. Stevens, of twins. "To err is human, to forgive divine."

THE Messageries Maritimes Company's fleet is valued at $2,164,896. It has 66 ships of an aggregate force of 20,610 horse power and an aggregate of 168,172 tons of displacement.

Mr. ATTCHISON, Chief Commissioner of Burmah, has intimated to friends in England that he does not believe the Mandalay difficulty will be saved without a short war and the enthronement of Nyaungun.

According to the Indian Daily News, private letters from Australia report that the Sydney Exhibition has been a failure. The hotels are said to be without visitors, and the theatres to be empty.

STEALING BEEF.

Wong Aloi, 17, a servant, appeared on a charge of stealing beef from his master, George Greig a Staff Sergeant in the Royal Engineers.

Complainant is entitled to receive a certain quantity of beef as a part of his daily rations and it was defendant's duty to go every morning to the Commissariat Stores to draw his master's rations. For some time past complainant noticed that the beef was short and yesterday morning it was so noticeably deficient in quantity that he took defendant back to the Stores and had the beef weighed, when it was found to be twelve ounces under the proper weight.

Corporal Hill, R. E., who superintends the issue of rations to the Staff Sergeants proved serving out the proper quantity of meat to the prisoner. He, the prisoner, knew exactly how much he should receive, and saw it weighed every morning, and on this occasion he took it out of the scales himself.

Prisoner in defence said that he put the basket down for a moment on his return to his master's quarters and that probably a dog had taken some of the meat. Complainant, on being recalled, said his servant did not put the basket down. He saw his wife take the basket from the defendant's hand as soon as he returned from the Commissariat Stores.

His Worship awarded a sentence of four weeks' imprisonment, the first and last ten days to be in solitary confinement.

STEALING PORK.

Wong Ashing, 34, a coolie, was charged with stealing four pieces of dried pork valued at 35 cents.

Chan Aze, the owner of the pork, said she had put it outside her door in Tai Wa Street to dry. About 4 o'clock in the afternoon she heard a cry of "stealing dried pork," and found defendant was running down the street and pursued by several of the neighbours. Witness joined in the chase and saw the prisoner arrested by a constable.

Defendant made the usual excuse that he saw another man steal the pork and that he had been arrested by mistake. Sentence, six weeks' imprisonment with hard labour.

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION.

Cheung Afak, 31, a coolie, was charged with being in the unlawful possession of a piece of a wooden rail on the 23rd instant, the property of the Government.

En Tin Yan, a gardener, employed at the Government shrubbery at Wong Nei Chong, caught defendant carrying off the bar, which formed part of the railing round the plantation. A great many similar pieces had been stolen recently. The one now under notice was in its proper place at 10 o'clock in the morning. When arrested prisoner said he only picked it up to put it in its place, but witness said the prisoner was about 60 feet away from the part of the fence from which it was taken when he was arrested.

Defendant now said that he had seen it lying on the ground for some days and thought it was no use. He admitted having been in gaol last month for fourteen days for a similar offence. Fined $25, in default to suffer three months' imprisonment with hard labour.

(Before Hon. C. B. Plunket.)

A PROMISING YOUTH.

Wan Achau, 10 years of age, was charged with stealing on the 18th instant, a silver bangle from a little girl, daughter of one Ho Achau, carpenter.

Complainant's two children, a boy and girl, were playing outside their father's shop when the defendant snatched the bangle from the girl's arm and ran off. He was not arrested till the 22nd instant.

Defendant denied the charge. He admitted three convictions during the present year, but asserted that they were all on false accusations.

Wan A I, the father of the defendant, did not think his son could have stolen the bangle as at the time when the theft was alleged to have been committed he was engaged cooking for the family. He had beaten the boy to make him confess but he had persisted in asserting his innocence. Sentence, six months' imprisonment with hard labour with two periods of 14 days in solitary confinement.

CORRESPONDENCE.

THE RECENT REGATTA.

To the Editor of the "CHINA MAIL." 23rd December.

SIR,—We do not desire to enter into any controversy with your anonymous correspondent "Waterman," who, so politely charges us with making a false statement, as it was our opinion that a fleet of steam-launches preceding light racing boats must and did seriously affect them, and to that opinion we still adhere.

We have the honor to be, Your most obedient servants, HAMILTON GEARY, Captain, R.A., W. HYNES, Umpires and Starters.

H. B. M.'s S. Lapwing left Pagoda Anchorage, for a cruise, on the 15th inst. Like cures like; and the Foochow launchers have just now successfully demonstrated the truism that combination is met by counter-combination. Peronia, v. Antenor. There's the rub, ye conspirators!

A large contingent of ponies are, we understand, expected to arrive per S. S. Sin Yarnang, due here to-morrow. This welcome accession to the "Camp" forces comes in good time, and will, if our information is correct, bring the muster roll up to the full strength of former years.

A special general meeting of members of the Foochow Chamber of Commerce was held at the offices of Messrs Odell & Leyburn on Friday last, the 12th inst. The following firms were represented, viz.:—Messrs Gibb, Livingston & Co., Oliver & Co., Bathgate & Co., Russell & Co., Purdon & Co., Adamson Ball & Co., Holliday Wise & Co., B. J. Morris & Co., Schönfeld & Co., Siemens & Co., Alex. Leith (Hongkong & Shanghai Banking Corporation), Odell & Leyburn, Gilman & Co., W. L. Hunter & Co., Swire, and Birley & Co. Mr Odell occupied the Chair. The object of calling the members together was to consider the following proposition, which had been submitted to the Committee of the Chamber by a deputation of native teamen, viz.:—

"That all teas shall be weighed within one week after date of purchase; and that payment for the same shall be made within one week after date of shipment."

After conversation, the following resolution was proposed by Mr. Dermer and seconded by Mr. Sheppard:—"That in the opinion of this meeting the questions submitted by the deputation of teamen are matters entirely between sellers and buyers and that this Chamber can take no action."

To the foregoing resolution, Mr. Tatham, seconded by Mr. Leith, proposed the following Amendment:—

"That this meeting approves of the suggestion for fixing some period for payment of teas, but thinks the suggestion as to weighing within a week of purchase will be found impracticable, especially in the case of Australian buyers. The meeting, however, considers it impossible to make any binding agreement on the subject, the carrying out of any such arrangement being a matter solely as between buyer and seller, and the carrying out of it depending entirely on the action of the native Tea Hong themselves."

On being put to the meeting, the amendment was carried by six votes, nine being in favor of and three against it. A vote of thanks to the chair concluded the business of the meeting.—Abridged.

SHANGHAI.

(N. C. D. News.)

We understand that the other afternoon a cargo boat loaded with rice was driven by the force of the current with such violence against the side of the steamer Antenor that it capsized and sank at once.

We are desired to inform our readers that from this date mails will be made up at the United States Postal Agency for transmission to San Francisco from Yokohama, by the steamers of both the Occidental and Oriental, and the Pacific Mail lines. Hitherto they have only been forwarded by those of the latter.

More robberies of Public Garden property are announced; this time it is hyacinth bulbs from the reserve Garden that have been pilfered, having been taken out of the glasses and carried off—thefts paitry in themselves, but which, if continued, will entail on the Garden Committee the necessity of closing the reserve Garden altogether as a measure of self-protection.

The Masonic body in Shanghai have had it in contemplation for some weeks past to give a Ball during the coming festive season, and at a meeting of the Committee held last evening we understand it was decided to carry the project into effect. Over 120 subscribers have already been obtained, including many ladies, and we hear the 23rd of January is the day fixed for the Ball to take place.

About half past six on Thursday evening last, the Kiangfoo steamer struck a ferry-boat near Kian yien, which sank immediately. It was very dark at the time, and the boat, which had no light, was not seen until the steamer was close to it. The helm was at once ported to avoid it, but the lowland kept on his way across the bows of the Kiangfoo, with the result mentioned. A boat was lowered immediately, and ten persons were taken out of the water. They went on to Chinkiang on the steamer, and returned to their homes by the next one that came down. It is stated that there were seven persons on the boat who were not picked up.

Some of our readers may be pleased to learn that the health of the Rev. J. Hudson Taylor, of the China Inland Mission, has derived great benefit from his stay in Chefoo. Indeed, we understand that he is completely restored to health. He is believed to be now en route to Yangchow by overland route, at which place he has a station.

(Mercury.)

A steam dredger, from the Arsenal we believe, has arrived at the entrance to the Soochow Creek. It is a cumbersome looking machine, and has only one bucket. No wonder with an affair like this, the Chinese authorities shrink from the expense of dredging the Woosung Bar. The Soochow Creek is to be dredged, and perhaps in the course of time the Hwangpoo River may be dredged too. She is believed to be one of the original lot ordered by Messrs J. W. Allen & Co. for dredging the upper part of the Soochow Creek, about fifteen years ago.

THE LATEST AMERICAN SWINDLE.

In the generous mood one always comes to about Christmas time we do not mind giving an advertisement gratis to a large commercial undertaking over the water. American "cuteness" has come to be proverbial, but, thank Heaven, it borders on a land the average Briton does not yet care to boldly tread. The stamp mania gave rise in England and America, and indeed over all the world more or less, to a regular trade in stamps, not a small portion of the profits of the dealer being the ordinary stamps he received himself on letters addressed to him by collectors and correspondents in distant parts. The coolest piece of begging effrontery we have noticed in this connection is the following letter which has been received within the last three years by several gentlemen in Hongkong. The Swedish young lady has "just happened to get hold of another batch" of names of "honoured and esteemed gentlemen" in this quarter of the globe. Some letters have been received in Amoy, and some, we learn from the Hio-go News, in Japan. Some of those we have seen came with a neat Christmas card and "the compliments of the season." The whole thing is a probable "take-in," but it is worth giving as a sample of the latest development of the "cuteness" of the great nation that first made wooden nutmegs et hoc genus omne.—

Brooklyn (North America),

Aug. 12, 1879.

Mr. —, Amoy in China.

My very esteemed and dear Sir,—By a chance I got your very honoured name and address, and as I fancy you to be a very kind Gentleman, I hope you will forgive me for addressing myself to you.

I wish to tell you that I was born in Iceland (in Europe) and was soon after moved to Scandinavia (Sweden) where I lived and was educated till my both dear parents died a few years ago, when I then as not yet 19 years old had to leave my fatherland to go over here to this strange American land to live together with a lady-friend of my late parents, a very kind elderly Swedish Lady.

By that time my Lady Friend soon noticed that I here felt very lonesome and was very sorrowful at the loss of my beloved parents; and to amuse me and to try to disperse my thoughts, she animated me to make a Collection or Album of need (canceled) Postage-Stamps of all nations in the world, which is a very delightful and instructive amusement to many young Ladies in Scandinavia; and she kindly presented me with a very large and elegant Postage-Stamp-Album with descriptions and empty spaces for all the about 8000 different Stamps in the World.—Oh, I can not describe you how very much I now love this beautiful Album, but it was also mine my only amusement here.

But, oh, I soon noticed how very difficult it will be to get my Album filled! And as I therefore now just happened to get your very honoured name, so I thought I should venture to send this little note to you, my esteemed Sir, and most beseechingly ask you kindly to do me the great favor to try to get obtained for me a lot of such canceled Postage-Stamps from China and other Countries, of which I suppose you and your friends have got many on old and new letters from time to time.

Especially I should be most thankful and obliged to you for a good lot of the VERY RARE OBSOLETE Postage-Stamps which my Album says were in use in Philippine Islands from 1854-1864, and in Japan from 1871-1875, and you will be sure to find a grand lot of them on the backs of all such old letters from those years and countries. Oh, you will not be able to believe how very grand a pleasure those extremely rare obsolete Stamps will afford me; I shall appreciate them very highly and I will owe you millions of thanks for your trouble to get them. But, besides, I shall also be very thankful to you, esteemed Sir, for all other canceled Postage-Stamps (and also Revenue Stamps) obsolete or now in use in China, Japan, Philippine Islands and other Countries.—And please be very kind to remember that you can not send me too many of such canceled stamps, even if you can send off many hundreds of such sorts, for I can through Lady-Friends in Scandinavia get all such duplicates exchanged for many other different stamps, just such as I can use in my Album.

But now I also wish to ask what I can do in return to you, my esteemed Sir! And I beseech you kindly to tell me which things you are especially most fond of, for

I can send you many different remembrances, curiosities, books, views, newspapers; also I can embroider something for you if you wish. Oh, indeed, I shall be very glad to please you in best manner to show you my gratitude.

Now I shall be very much longing for your esteemed answer; and you will rejoice me indescribably if you will most kindly send a VERY LARGE and BIG LETTER filled with a GRAND LOT of STAMPS; oh, then I shall always remember and thank you as often as I open my Album and look at my fine Pages for China.

Hoping soonest to receive that joy-bringing letter, I ask, esteemed Sir, to remain most respectful and truly,—

Your ANNA P.—

Please be very kind to send your welcome letter by earliest way, and to put all the stamps with the letter in a very strong Envelope, addressed most carefully thus:—

Miss Anna P.—

No. —, Avenue,

Brooklyn Long-Island

United States of North America.

One gentleman who received a copy of this letter wrote politely to say that he had a large supply of stamps which he would be only too anxious to dispose of—(he happened to hold the highest position in the Post Office)—none of them were obliterated, but he presumed that would not much matter; she could effect that with little trouble; one of the things he liked best and of which she could send any quantity by registered packet was solid Mexican American gold dollars, or a bill for a handsome amount on any of our Banks here.

Any of these to hand, he would despatch her at once stamps to the amount. Such a reply was likely to choke-off the poor young lady from whom no answer has been received. We fancy it is needless to warn any one that the whole affair is a fraud. We simply give the gushing letter, the marvellous work of a gang of impostors, as a curio, in the history of swindling.

FENG-SHUI AGAIN RAMPANT.

(Foochow Herald, Dec. 18th.)

Feng-shui-ism has once more asserted itself. Yenping-foo, a district city about three days' journey from this port, has again declared against Christian missionaries; or rather the literati of that ilk have moved the mobocracy to the perpetration of another unprovoked attack on a foreign Christian missionary. We say the literati, because we are in possession of clear and distinct testimony as to their complicity in this, as in former deeds of cowardly sneaking lawlessness. The particulars of the outrage to which we now wish to refer are as follows:—

In the early part of last week the Revd. Nathan Sites, a member of the American Methodist Episcopal Mission, arrived at Yenping-foo, at which place the Mission with which he is connected have a station. A day or two after his arrival there, inflammatory placards, suddenly appeared throughout the city, calling upon the people to expel the "foreign barbarian" and his native congregation, and to destroy the Christian chapel. Mr. Sites, in this emergency, very properly called upon the district magistrate, by whom he was advised to keep quiet and to refrain from holding any public service in the city until the excitement then prevailing had subsided.

We understand that Mr. Sites, though of course in no way legally bound to do so, acted in strict accordance with the magistrate's advice, and closed the doors of the Mission Chapel throughout last Sunday. But, notwithstanding this apparently ample concession, Mr. Sites was, while walking quietly through the streets, waylaid by a fired mob, and, after having been severely beaten by the ruffians, was on the point of being deliberately drowned by his hireling persecutors when the magistrate, most fortunately, arrived on the scene and barely succeeded in saving his life. Mr. Sites is at present under medical treatment, and we understand that the United States Consul has addressed a remonstrance on the subject to the provincial authorities.

There's Harry, who taught me fine escapades,—

He's got his Majority now in the Guards; And they say that he's leading a steady life, And thinking of looking about for a wife.

There's Jack,—why, I left him a rollicking lad, And now he's a mate on an ironclad. And Jane—more baby in frock and curl— If her photograph's true, is a beautiful girl.

They're sitting all round the family spread: There's a party of game, and a big boar's head; There's holly on window and picture-frame, And the fire burns up, with a crackling flame.

Then the quiet old Rector looks in on his way, And bids them a blithesome Christmas Day; And together they walk through the grove of birch, Over the stile, to the village church.

At the graveyard gate the churchwardens stand, With "A merry Christmas!" and hat in hand,—

The grocer, the smithie, and Farmer Ball, And the Squire has a kindly word for all.

Then, when the shadows of night descend, The Hall is lighted from end to end; There's a bonfire huge on the lawn outside, And within, the Mother is in her pride.

For she loves this night the best of the year, And loads her board with the Christmas cheer,—

The mince-meat pies, and the loin of beef, And the grand plum pudding with holly-leaf.

There's happiness, too, in the old Squire's face, As he rises and says the Christmas grace. He chuckles, and laughs, and cracks his joke, And the party's a party of merry folk.

Then he fills a bumper up to the brim: He toasts them all, and they all toast him. "A merry Christmas and happy New Year To every one who is near and dear!"

But I fancy the Mother's eyes are wet When the old man says, "There is one toast yet—

Him absent—the youngster who's far away— God give him a merry Christmas Day!"

Ah me! I know that my lot's not bad, But the reverie somehow makes me sad; And this is a time when the thoughts will roam, Wherever we are, to the scenes at Home.

A CHRISTMAS REVERIE IN INDIA.

To-morrow, alas! I am booked to go And dine with our Colonel and Mrs. O. O. I hate to depart from my usual way; And to-morrow, by Jove, will be Christmas Day!

One feels, now one hasn't a regular Mess, It's a bore to go out, and a nuisance to dress; And a feed at the Commandant's bungalow Is a dreary attempt at Christmas, you know;

The punkah, instead of the Christmas fire! The Colonel, instead of the dear old Squire! The lizard, and withering noontide glow, Instead of the robin, and frost and snow!

I know, after all, that my lot isn't bad, But somehow or other it makes me sad, At a season like this, when the thoughts will roam, To think what they're doing just now at home!

I fancy I see them, the Squire and all— In the breakfast room in the dear old Hall. There's snow on the drive and the grove of birch, And they're ringing the chimes in the village church.

Yes, yonder he sits in his wonted place, With a smile on his fresh benignant face; And the Mother, she's there at the other end, And Harry, and Jack and Jane, and a friend.

I wonder whether they're altered much?— The Dad's crisp hair had a silvery touch When I said good-b
